MACC Elective Courses
Summer 2021

MACC 634: Behavioral Issues in Managerial Accounting (3 cr.)
The course will go beyond the numbers in managerial accounting and examine behavioral issues in the field including job burnout, unethical behavior, quality concerns, budgetary slack, and poorly designed incentive systems.

INSTRUCTOR: Dr. Dan Law
DATES: 6/28 – 8/06
DATE & TIME: Remote Asynchronously

MACC 699.201: Sustainability Accounting I (1 cr.)
Students will learn about the history and mission of the Sustainability Accounting Standards Board (SASB) and its standards for corporate sustainability disclosure. Students will also examine the connection between sustainability performance and financial performance and the CPA’s role in providing assurance on sustainability information. This special writing-intensive class, only offered in summer, may serve as a substitute for the Professional Writing Workshop.

INSTRUCTOR: Professor Cathy DeHart
DATE & TIME: Remote Asynchronously
DATES: 5/17 – 8/06

MACC 697: Internship (1-3 cr.)
Relevant work experience is required that is commensurate with a student’s professional interests. Guidelines and criteria are available from the School of Business Administration Internship Director.

INSTRUCTOR: Dr. Vicki Hucke
DATE & TIME: N/A, Remote Only
DATES: 5/17 – 8/06

MACC 699.701: Sports Economics (1 cr.)
This course explores the economic incentives present in professional and amateur sports. Specifically, the business of sports is examined including: revenue maximization, ticket pricing, league structure, stadium financing, advertising, labor relations/player pay, federal anti-trust exemptions, and Title IX.

INSTRUCTOR: Dr. Kevin Henrickson
DATE & TIME: Remote Asynchronously
DATES: 5/17 – 6/25

MACC students may also take MBA or MTAX elective(s) with prior approval from the Director of Graduate Accounting or the Graduate Academic Advisor.